MODERN ORTHODOX

by Daniel Goldfarb

January 19-February 13, 2011

Originally starring Molly Ringwald and Jason Biggs on Broadway, this knockout comedy is about a modern young Jewish couple, Ben and Hannah, comfortably ensconced on the Upper West Side of Manhattan who are provoked to question their commitment to each other as well as the depth of their religious feeling. It all starts when Herschel Klein – a diamond dealer from Brooklyn wearing a yarmulke with a Yankees logo and hi-top tennis shoes – arrives on their doorstep demanding to be given harbor on Shabbat.
